Conditions of Membership in the Regina Sailing Club

Each member is obliged to abide by club bylaws and policies which are posted in the clubhouse and on the website - www.sailregina.ca . Members are responsible for the safety and conduct of their dependants and guests. It is required that members clean up after use of club property and report property damage and any incidents to a Club Director and in the logbook. Any incidents involving club members and equipment require an incident log to be filled out. The reports can be found on the website and in the clubhouse. Members are required to provide “DOT approved” Personal Flotation Devices (PFD) (with whistle) for each person in their party on the water. Members may use club boats provided they have demonstrated to a designated Club Director that they meet the skill/experience requirements, and that they will adhere to Sailing Guidelines and current Club Policy. A member signing out club property is responsible for any damage to that property (e.g.: boat or equipment). Please note our club boats can only be used for or in preparation for Saskatchewan Sailing Clubs Association sanctioned events of Regina Sailing Club.
